Carlway FC has taken delivery of new home and away kits for the forthcoming season. A new shirt sponsorship deal has also been agreed with Uig based Abhainn Dearg Distillery. The club is very grateful to the new sponsors for providing investment in its local football team, particularly during the current economic climate.

The players were given the opportunity to wear the new kits for the first time at a training session this week. Representing Abhainn Dearg Distillery was Eilidh Duncan, who is pictured with team captain Murdo 'Squeg' Macleod.
